The 19th International Symposium on
Epstein-Barr Virus and Associated Diseases.
Professor and Chairman,
Department of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery,
Asahikawa Medical University.

Yasuaki Harabuchi, M.D., Ph.D.

The EBV Governing Board and Local Organizing Committee of the 19th International Symposium on Epstein-Barr Virus and associated diseases (19th International EBV Symposium) have made the important decision, as a result of careful consideration and comprehensive evaluation of currently available information regarding the pandemic outbreak of COVID-19, to postpone the 19th International EBV Symposium, which is originally scheduled for August 24-28, 2020.

The rescheduled International EBV Symposium is held July 26-30, 2021 in Asahikawa, Japan.

Additional information regarding hotel reservation, registration, and meeting logistics will be available on the TOP page of the EBV 2020 website within a few weeks. In late July, Tokyo and Osaka are terribly hot and humid, while Asahikawa has the freshest and the best season. The blessing of nature welcomes visitors with beautiful sceneries and attracts many tourists. Therefore, we recommend that the participants should book the travel and accommodation as early as possible. We hope that all participants get to enjoy Asahikawa, July 26-30, 2021.
